Surface Indications

What a miner would very properly term "surface indications" of what is beneath, are the Pimples, Sties, Sore Eyes, Boils, and Cutaneous Eruptions with which people are annoyed in spring and early summer. The effect matter accumulated during the winter months, now makes its presence felt, through Nature's endeavors to expel it from the system. While it remains, it is a poison that festers in the bloed and may develop into Scrofula. This condition causes derangement of the digestive and assimilatory organs, with a feeling of enervation, languor, and weariness—often lightly spoken of as "only spring fever." These are evidences that Nature is not able, unaided, to throw off the corrupt atoms which weaken the vital forces. To regain health, Nature must be added by a thorough blood-purifying medicine; and nothing clse is so effective as

GENERAL KOMAROFF. the Distinguished Russian Won His Present Bank. General Komaroff distinguished him-

elf by military tact, audacity and resourcefulness as well as personal bravery in the Russo-Turkish campaign in Asia Minor in 1877, when he won his present rank of General. After the apture of Ardahan, near the Russo furkish frontier, Colonel Komaroff was eft in command of a detachment which had the difficult duty of defending a considerable tract of the neighboring nountainous country, and of protectng the Russian frontier as well as covering the flank and rear of the army then operating against Kars. When the movement urged by Loris Melikoff was made against Erzeroum, Colonel Komaroff executed a very bold and suc-cessful manœuver. With a flying squadrapidly round the enemy's flank, and came down upon a part of the Turkish force which was holding the Panak Pass on the Sahanlough Range, which compared to the control of manded access to the town of Olti on the northern side, whence the Turks intended to attack Ardahan. Colone Komaroff's unexpected appearance had at once without lighting, and the Russians were enabled to occupy Panak and Olti, and to capture two thousand ifles and five hundred thousand cartridges.

When at a subsequent period of the campaign the Russian troops were or-dered to retire from Hadj-Vali, Colone Komaroff, with his detachment, found himself placed in a very perilous position by reason of the withdrawal of the main column of the Russian force, the main column of the Russian loves, from which he became separated by a distance of from four to five miles, while he was exposed to Turkish fre from the twin heights of Great and Little Yalta. By a dash he drove of the two hundred Turkish cavalry who held the Great Yalta, stationed a body of his game may in their place and the of his own men in their place and, un-der cover of their fire, brought the main part of his own force round to the eastern slope of the hill, where, after a time, they were joined by re inforcements from the Russian arm under the very nose of the enemy, and the whole force was enabled to retire in

Other.

During the attack of the Turks of the night of July 81 (August 1) upon the Russian camp at Kiouriouk-Dara, Colone!—or rather at this date General-Komaroff, for he had already been promoted to that rank, was charged with a detachment to take up a position at Mount Karaal, four versts from the Russian camp, and there to act at his own discretion. It was on this occasion that he received a wound in the breast, which, however, did not prove serious, the bullet having struck a religious medal which he wore. Gen eral Komaroff subsequently took par in the storming of Kars, and contributed no unimportant share in that cele brated action. At the conclusion of the war he was made commandant of Batoum, on the Euxine, and, after the Akhat Tekke expedition, he was placed in command of the trans-Caspian army. The Russians attribute the peaceable annexation of Mery, in a large measure, to General Komaroll's tact and skill in other than military matters.—Pall Mall Gazette.

UNDER THE MICROSCOPE.

"The only instance on record when the blood of two persons was compared in a criminal trial," said Dr. Piper to a AND we do not overstate it when we say Call reporter, yesterday, "was in a murder case in Chicago. The comparson settled the innocence of the woman on trial for her life. The story of th bloody transaction is as follows: comely woman, with $20,000, married a man in Chicago, and placed her snug little fortune in his business. In the course of time he began to abuse her, and finally she decided to appeal for a divorce. The double calamity of losing a woman to beat and the withdrawal of her $20,000 from his business made the brute furious, and the next morning he was found dead in one corner of hi bedchamber, a bullet having gone through his heart. His wife was found wounded, in another part of the roon She said that her husband had con home the night before in a rage and began to abuse her while she was in bed; that he hit her on the head with the butt of his revolver while her head vas on the pillow, and spattered blood over the linen, that she jumped up, and he shot her, indicting a slight flesh wound in her side, she then rushed at him, and snatching the revolver from him, shot him through the heart. He reeled to the corner where he was found and died. The prosecution did not beand died. The prosecution did not be-lieve her story, and set up the theory that she had shot him while he was asleep and dragged him to the corner, and then inflicted the wound on her-self. The carpet where the dead man lay was saturated with blood. Accord-ing to the theory of the procession the ing to the theory of the prosecution the blood on the pillow was his also. I put sections of the pillow with blood upor it under the microscope, and drew on a card-board the shape of the corpuscles, enlarged about two thousand diameters.

I then put the blood on the carpet under the microscope in the same way. The comparison was wonderful. The corcomparison was wonderful. The corpuscles on the pillow were bright, round, and clean, they were beautiful. The corpuscles on the carpet were large and disfigured, the result of disease. The comparison settled that question at once. The blood corpuscles were as different as day and night, and sustained the woman's account of the shooting. She was acquitted on that and other "As between human blood and dog's blood, the microscope enables the ex pert to determine precisely whether a specimen is from a human being or a dog. But it is impossible to determine between human blood and a hog's blood. This fact convicted one man that I know of. He claimed that the blood on his clothes was dog's blood. I was able to show that it was not dog's blood; but if he had said that it was hog's blood I could not have contradicted the statement."—San Francisca

It is a Positive Fact, THE BLUE GRASS CARRIAGE

We are comparably strangers in a new location, but a bran new shop, with facilities to construct anything on wheels from a wheelbarrow to a carriage. And while we make a specialty of jobs to order, will confine ourselves for the present to repairing, general blacksmith and wood work, trimming, painting, and overhauling old work. We are not agents for any shyster or machine work. Mr. Gregor is an experienced shoer, having years of practice in this most important line in the cities of Chicago and Dubuque, Iowa. We will convince you that a horse shoer is born, not made, if you will take the trouble to call just once. We came to this section to remain in spite of high water and hard times, and being unknown have nothing more to commend our claims to you for patronage than our knowledge of mechanism, and we trust an appreciative and indulgent public. We have ample room for farmers' teams and rigs while in the city, and will make it to their especial interest to call on us for anything in our line. With a guarantee of our work, or money refunded, and a solemn promise of our prices being in accordance with the times and not with cusom, we ask you to look for the big sign of the Blue Grass Carriage Shop, and if you mean business come once, and we have no fears that our magnetism will not draw you thereafter.

WEDNESDAY EVE., NOV. 4, 1885. Was it a rebuke to Cleveland, 28 the Democrats insist, or was it an endorsement of his $1,000 contribu tion and of his coming home to vote, as the great civil service reformer would have us believe? THE saddle of Robert E. Lee, and the saddle."

THE Democrats can carry New York by virtue of the big majorities rolled up in the slums of the great cities, but when it comes to the in telligent commonwealths of Massa chusetts and Iowa things take a change, as it were, and the party of bigotry, retrogression and putrid reminiscence slinks away abashed all the votes. The county commis and defeated.

Ir was fondly hoped that the elec tion in New York yesterday would give some clear indication of the mugwump strength in that state, but we are as much in the dark as ever on that subject. That element claimed that it defeated Blaine a year ago. This year the Republicans nominated a ticket for the especial benefit of the mugwumps, and they rallied to its support in a body, only to get defeated by a much larger majority than they secured for Cleveland a year ago. It is hard to understand the mugwumps. When they are on the other side they manage to beat the Republicans, and when they come over to ns we get beaten.

Yesterday's Elections.

The result of the voting yesterday in the different states holding elections, was decidedly mixed. In New York, where the Republicans seemed confident of victory, the entire Democratic ticket is successful by majorities reaching to or beyond 20,000, though the legislature will have a Republican majority of about 24 on joint ballot.

In Virginia Fitzhugh Lee, "the nephew of his uncle," puils through by a handsome majority, carrying the legislature with him and thus securing the defeat of Mahone. So much for the possession of the election machinery of the state.

Iowa elects the whole Republican ticket, by about 12,000, and the legislature is Republican in both branches.

electing Quay for state treasurer by one of its old-tashioned majorities. In Cook county, Illinois, the Republicans won an unexpected victory, carrying the entire county commissioners' ticket—with possibly one exception-and also electing their candidate for Judge of the superior court. The Republican candidate for supreme judge had no opposition. But the most gratifying part of the result was the adoption of the new election law by an overwhelming majority, making it possible hereafter to have honest elections in Chicago-a triumph worth more to that city than the result of any election held yesterday in any state. It is yet too early to give majorities accurately, but the result is by no means disheatening to Republicans.

New York business men are renewing the agitation in favor of a national bankrupt law, the Lowell bill being very generally favored as the most satisfactory in all its features yet offered. It is noted, however, that there has lately been doveloped considerable opposition to a law of the kind named, especially among the wholesale dry goods trade, who express themselves as well satisfied with the working of the various state laws, and who have various objections to the proposed bankrupt act. Meetings are to be held under the auspices of the varions commercial bodies to consider the subject, between this and the assembling of Congress, and the whole question will be exhaustively

Colored Men as Jurors. LOUISVILLE, KY., November J .- A good deal of comment has been caused by the presence of two colored men on the Grand Jury impaneled to the Circuit Court yesterday. It is the first time in many years that a colored man has been drawn on the Grand Jury. In appointing Jury Commissioners Judge Jackson has instructed them not to discriminate against the colored race, the question of discrimination being urged as an objecdiscrimination being urged as an objection against an indictment returned by the Grand Jury of the last term. Judge Jackson instructed the present Commissioners particularly upon this point. The result was that they becluded in their lists of jurors to be drawn the names of a number of reputable colored citzens. Four of these were drawn for the make-up of the present Grand Jury, but two of them are in attendance upon the United States Court, and had to be excused. The other two proved to be qualified, and had no legal excuse to offer as to why they should be relieved from service. presiding. Mr. Butterworth, for Mrs.

Taber, sald:

The Coefft must remember the pastor of the Bowdoin Square Church and how the case is to affect him. For five years he had posted over the spiritual interests of the orred with great ability, although he had a hydra-beaded monster to deal with. Mr. Taber was a refined lady. The decision in this case might be rulmous to her reputation and happiness. The other party was Fred J. Taber, the man who had insugated this trouble. Mr. Taber was engaged in hydro business or in one branch of it, and consequently his associates were among a low class. It the suit resulted in a verdict against h.m. it would have little effect upon him or his standing in society. Mr. Butterworth then proceeded to review the evidence, commencing with that of Mr. Downs went to Mrs. Taber's, not it was dealed that he went as often as stated, and that then he went to Mrs. Taber's, not it was dealed that he went as often as stated, and that then he went only for a proper purpose. A BIG LAND CLAIM. A Large Slice of the City of San Fran-cisco Claimed Under a Mexican Grant. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., November 4 .-Another large land suit on an old Mexican grant is about to be brought before the United States Court. The suit will involve the title [to a large slice of this city and county, valued [at not less than $10,000,000. The history tof this claim ls as follows: While Nothern California was a province of Mexico, Fernandino Marchina was a commissary, in the Mex-Marchina was a commissary, in the Mexican army, and in 1842 was reimbursed for supplies furnished the army by a title to a league to land. The grant was triangular in form, and was inclosed by a line which takes in the whole of the western addition and Harca Valler the western addition and Hayes Valley, the cemeterles and a slice of Golden Gate Park. It is claimed that full title was given to Marchina in 1344.

About 1850 Marchina sold the grant to John K. Moore, to whom he transferred the original Mexican title. Over twenty years ago Moore began an ejection suit in the United States Court for possession of the land, but the suit was dropped. Moore and his claim disappeared from public view. Recently be emerged from his twenty years' legal sectusion and engaged a firm of attorneys to prosecute the claim once more. The original title to the land is seafe in a banking nouse vault in this city, and legal steps toward the recovery of the land will be taken in

TALKING TO THE JURY. The Lawyers Reviewing the Evidence in the Durbin Case and Drawing Conclusions State's Attorney Vail to Close the Arguments This Evening.

Yesterday afternoon additional testinony on behalf of Durbin was heard. Thomas W. Branson and J. Warshell, of Fayette county, added their evidence as o the previous good character of the deferdant. Manager F. W. Haines was put on the stand to tell that there was a Humpty Dumpty show at the opera nouse on the night of March 7th, when the infant disappeared, and when it is alleged the defendant and Emily Dunn were present for awhile before returning o the Shively residence.

Dr. R. L. Walston, Dr. B. F. Sibley, Dr. D. N. Moore and Dr. A. M. Kincaid testified as experts and answered the hypothetical questions propounded by Mr. Johns with reference to the state of decomposition of a human body that had peon in the water twenty days. The anwers were well guarded, the burden of he testimony being to the effect that if the child died on the 7th of the month, as alleged in the indictment, then a more advanced state of decomposition would appear than was apparent on the day the body was found.

When the last witness stepped down, Durbin and his counsel retired to have a consultation in one of the jury rooms. They were gone about ten minutes, when Mr. Johns got the attention of the court and stated: "We rest our case." This announcement was something of a surprise to the People, as both Mr. Vail and Mr. Mills supposed that a heroulean effort would be made to impeach Mr. Shively, and also that Mr. Bethards and other friends of the defendant would be called apon to testify. Mr. Vail promptly expressed his surprise at the sudden close of the case, and when Judge Hughes asked how long counsel would want to argue the case, Mr. Ashcraft arose and proposed to submit the case to the jury without discussion. Mr. Vail would not agree to this, when the Judge took occasion to express his disapproval of the proposition made by Mr. Ashcraft, because he didn't think the jury should bear it.

After further talk it was agreed that each side should have three hours to COMMENSING with next Sunday, the make arguments, when court adjourned until 8:30 o'clock this morning.

SUMMING UP THE EVIDENCE. It was expected at the opening of court begin at once their arguments in the case but the Judge heard a few motions first. At nine o'clock, Mr. I. R. Mills faced the jury and began the opening argument against the defendant. He summed up the evidence forcibly and made a strong and eloquent appeal to the jury to inflict the death penalty on Durbin, whom he asserted had been clearly proven guilty by strong circumstantial evidence of the murder of his ignocent babe. He had the garments taken from the body of the infunt child brought into court, and he used them to emphasize his statements as to the positive identification of the child. Mr. Mills spoke one hour and thirty minutes. Mr. W. C. Johns, senior counsel for the lefendant, closed his argument between 12 and 1 o'clock. In opening, he paid his respects to Mr. Mills by making a his respects to Mr. Mills by making a few cutting remarks, and then addressed himself to the alleged conflicting character of the evidence against his client.

Brockway will depart this evening over the Central railroad for evening over the Central railroad for particle of it blowing back to annoy the low cutting remarks, and then addressed ter of the evidence against his client. He held that the circumstantial evidence y that it will come into general use on did not point to the guilt of Durbin and declared that under the law he should be Take all your broken down vehicles to

Smoked Out the Grocm and Bride. The Danville News thus tells of the formance: tough treatment of a bride and groom near that city recently: "Seventy-two complainte have been sworn out and war cants issued for the participators in the charivari on the occasion of the Remier. Stont wedding in Rossville a few mays ago, mentioned at the time in the News. The first trial will come off to day before Squire Millier of that place. This army of boys went to the house of the newlymarried couple and demanded the groom to come out and "st up" the eig-is. They resorted to a great many rowdyish ways to get him out, and failed. If naily, to cap the climax, they got a wash tub and put it over the top of the chimney, and by that means em ked Remler out. Finding that he and his bride were the victims of this last act of vandalism i was more than they could stand, and he appeared at the door, when he was spring under the direction of Billy Powninghly se zed by the crowd and carried lown town and compelled to buy them a box of cigars. The funeral of the late Miss Carrie E. Smith ook place this afternoon from the First M. E. church, in the presence of a large company of forrowing friends, Rov. Coultas officiating. The remains were interred in Greenwood Cemetery.

The deceased was the daughter of J. E. and Martha A. Smith, and was born Jan. 14, 1895, at Fairmount, 11. She connected herself with the M. E. church at the age of 9 years, at Kingsley Chapel, itev. J. A. Kumler in charge. Most of her short life was apent in Homer, 11. Her family, for two years to moving to becatur, resided in Danville, 111. In February, 1883, she was exposed to the measles, from which she never recovered. She was a patient sufferer throughout her long sickness of nearly three years, but lived ever ready for the summons to a higher and holor life. For a short time provious to her decease, although her health was apparently as good as it had been for the last six months, there appeared to be a calm feeling settled over her as if the foretaste of heaven were realized. She told her father in bidding him goodbye that she was going to meet her mother and bady brother in the better land. She mot death without fear, calmly trusting in her Savior.

JUDGE HUGHES doesn't allow lawyers to say before the jury at the close of trial, "We are willing to submit the case without argument." Attorney Ashcraft made that statement last evening before the jury at the close of the Durbin trial, whereupon the Judge stated his objec tion, and in answer to Mr. Johns declared if it had been the custom in the past to make such an announcement before a jury, he proposed to make a change. Evidently the Judge is of the opinion that such a statement as that of Mr. Ashcraft is usually made for effect upon the jury. The Judge has given the members of the bar to understand that such an announcement must not be repeated.

This is the fourth annual tour of Geo. C Miln, the tragedian. It is safe to regard him now as an established fact in the field of the almost national reputation as a revivalist, legitimate drama. Commencing three years ago, without backing of capital or experienced management, he has by sheer force of will power, and exhibition of undoubted dramatic talent, forced his way to the front. SAVED FROM THE DRAFT.

How Peter Duffy Managed to Escape Conscription During the War. During the darker days of the war, when its holiday features had given place to genuine blood and universal sorrow; when the dazzling uniforms had been dragged in the mud and dust of many campaigns, and the soil of every Southern State had swallowed up the dear dust of brothers and sons, and when the roll of drums and flash of swords no longer won new recruits to death's grim carnival, there came the draft, with all the honors, but none of the dearly-bought giory of volunteer

Peter Duffy, an Irish blacksmith, with a young wife and a large family of helpass little children, was among the first in Southern Wisconsin to draw a sorrowful prize. He felt that he absolutely could not go. He tried every way to evade the call of certain death, but met with nothing but chagrin, ridicule and One day, Hon. James H. Earnest was speaking in the State Senate, when a messenger came and told him that a messenger came and told him that a man outside the Senate chamber wished to see him. Owing to some misunderstanding, Mr. Duffy was ushered into the room. He had a good deal of hair, which he allowed to grow in wild pro-nusion. He did not hold himself resporible in any way for that hair. His head ooked like an old hair mattress that had been turned wrong side out by a cyclone and deserted by its friends. He ocame the cynosure of all eyes. The peech lost its interest and came to a

Mr. Earnest had never noticed this, but he really didn't want to see Duffy go, and in the kindness of his heart he recouraged the idea a little. He even went over to see Dr. Hoyt at Camp Randall, and while they made some scientific experiments with lemons and sugar and spirits, he drew the conver-sation toward Mr. Duffy.
